

High

Colton Dixon

Take me high, over the moon
Where all of my pain, all of my mistakes are out of view
Break me down and make me new
You're holding my hand, holding my heart while I'm holding on to you

We will soar like never before
We will shine, light up the sky
We will run and not fade
We bend but won't break
'Cause you are where we find our strength
We will fly
Take me high

I will breathe, breathe you in
The air in my lungs, the pulse in my blood, my oxygen
I'm on fire, burning brighter
I'll never run out, never come down, never let me touch the ground

We will soar like never before
We will shine, light up the sky
We will run and not fade
We bend but won't break
'Cause you are where we find our strength
We will fly

Take me high
We will rise with the morning light, light, eagles taking flight
Take me high
We will rise with the morning light, light, eagles taking flight
We will soar like never before
We will shine, light up the sky
We will run and not fade
We bend but won't break
'Cause you are where we find our strength

We will soar like never before
We will shine, light up the sky
We will run and not fade
We bend but won't break
'Cause you are where we find our strength
We will fly
Take me high
