

Wondering

Coma Cinema

Wondering what it's like to die
Oh, what am I supposed to do?
Now that I let you inside
And you're painting my spirit blue
True colors never dry
Not for you and I
And my love has got it in for you

Found the voice that dragged me out of bed
So I know it's gonna be alright
If we don't get uptight
And fearful of what might
Never happen if we try
And listen to the light
Cause your love is keeping me alive

It's not something that we're ever gonna understand
I'll keep it together as long as I can
Until the need inside your heart has died
I will try try try

Torn apart but together in a dream
Oh that's how you come to me
And now you're gonna set me free?
From this awful mystery
That's been coloring my life
But love always survives
It's alright
Yeah it's always right
