

Everything Relates

Comeback Kid

If now I could see
Everything demolishing me

Gone tasteless, left burned
Doesn't matter who said it first
If now I believed
Nothing left astonishing me
Nothing left to understand this curse
This fortune ended up worse
This fortune ended up worse

Violate a push and pull
But is it salvageable?
The spiralling, the spectacle
To set it up to lose it all

What if I act alone?
What if push comes to shove?
Insult to injury
Everything demolishing me

This fortune ended up worse
This fortune ended up worse

I could have finished this any time
But SK, you're on my mind
(This daunting world saved for us)

You've turned sand to glass this time
I'm on the other side asking why
You've turned sand to glass this time
I'm scared that others aren't far behind

Violate a push and pull
But is it salvageable?
The spiralling, the spectacle
To set it up to lose it all

What if I act alone?
What if push comes to shove?
Insult to injury
Everything demolishing me

Everything relates to everything
Everything relates to everything
It's coming undone
Things you would not believe
Everything relates to everything

Violate a push and pull
But is it salvageable?
The spiralling, the spectacle
I set it up to lose it all

What if I act alone?
What if push comes to shove?
Insult to injury

Everything demolishing me

Everything relates to everything
