

Wasted Arrows

Comeback Kid

I wrote it off before the story began and it came down to this,
I can't pretend
You've been reckless, and lately I can tell by your front
You've misled me before, now I know what you want

I've seen versions of you, they're becoming impossible to follow
(well, you're something else)
Wasted arrows
Two worlds drawn apart; Was it desperation that pushed you over
? (I can see you're not looking out, man)
Wasted arrows

Prey on the weakness

You put out the bait you'd try anything
I resented you 'cause you left me out to dry
