Think For Yourself

Common Enemy

you can't stand to see what this makes of me it tears you up inside to see me free I won't give in to them and their conformity stop to raise my voice, so hear me scream think, it's about what's inside think, they can't justify think, your life is your own so think for yourself I won't step into line, I walk my own path blinded by their lies, but see the truth I cut the puppet strings you can't control me fight to make a change so listen when I say think!
