

We're Thru

Common Enemy

now look at all that you've done wrong, you can't take back what's said and done you broke our bond of love and trust, "it's all right" cause you where drunk well your excuse is full of shit, you backstabbing, coward, heartless bitch to think I thought that you're the one, and now I say your fking done we're fking thru you've crossed the line
we're fking thru
so step aside at first you were a nice surprise, you weren't like all the other guys you took me out on fancy dates, and now that feelings turned to hate behind my back you tried a few, you've bit off more than you can chew what made you think you'll get by me, you deserve that pain now when you pee granted, I must say my thanks I know what you truly are and just to prove my point you're worthless!
