Thunder & Lightning

Common Kings

It's a little frightening, and it's so like lightning, yeah.

I wake up, another morning, time to hit the road.
Fresh kicks, new fit, and I'm out the door.
High times, no stress, let the good times roll.
Guess it was the city, lookin so pretty.
It was the front pool flying,
throwing back the night to day
when I saw a little somethin somethin catchin my eye.
Oh, I was feelin the vibe,
so I walked up to her and said..

Hey, and baby can I get your number
cause you hit my heart like thunder.
And now I'm singin like hey,
girl there's nothing that I'm frightened
when you hit my soul like lightning.

Tattoo, your kisses all around my neck.
Type of girl, no babygirl, hit the deck.
You're the only one, only one.
Let's head into the crowd,
we can party through the night.
Underneath the stars like pilots in the sky.
Cause you're the only one,
and I bet that I walked up to you and said..

Hey, and baby can I get your number
cause you hit my heart like thunder.
And now I'm singin like hey,
girl there's nothing that I'm frightened
when you hit my soul like lightning.

Don't ever leave me in the dark, no.
I'm always privy in the light.
Any way you go and follow,
I give it to you anytime.
You really hit me in the heart though,
always lookin out of sight.
You are everything I'd hope for, and I'm thinkin like..

Hey, and baby can I get your number
cause you hit my heart like thunder.
And now I'm singin like hey,
girl there's nothing that I'm frightened
when you hit my soul like lightning. [x2]
