

Fainted Love

Conan Gray

Stoplights, a familiar drive
Through another ghost town on a Saturday night
Alone, so you're losing your mind tonight

And I said, "Calm down. I'll be there by the nine
Don't you get yourself down. Not the end of your life
Don't mean that you're marrying me tonight
Tonight."

And you said
"You got it. We're nothing
I'm the worst, if you want it."

When your heart aches and it's dead in the night
Don't you worry for me, it's cool
It's enough to survive
Don't you worry, I want your fainted love
That's enough, fainted love

Dark room, not a whispering word
Guess you take all the pain that you think you deserve
Won't sleep 'cause it's easy to hurt tonight
Tonight

'Cause you said
"You got it. We're nothing
I'm the worst, if you want it."

When your heart aches and it's dead in the night
Don't you worry for me, it's cool
It's enough to survive
Don't you worry, I want your fainted love
That's enough, fainted love
I want your fainted love
That's enough, fainted love

White lies from the passenger seat
Say you'll love me for life, say you'll never leave
Kiss me 'til I almost believe tonight

But when your heart aches and it's dead in the night
Don't you worry for me, it's cool
It's enough to survive
Don't you worry, I want your fainted love
That's enough, fainted love
I want your fainted love
That's enough, fainted love
