

Grow

Conan Gray

I look about seventy years older
It feels like minutes but really it's hours
The cooling pavements calling my name, and
The zooming street signs don't look the same, no
Don't know why, but I think I'm ready for it
Yeah, I think I'm ready for

Running on concrete
Electricity
I finally can breathe
I think I'm ready for

Only you and me
We made it out, it seems
I made it, out it seems
I think I'm ready to

Grow, to grow
To grow, to grow

Familiar sounds
The lake holds all our secrets
Nostalgia bound
Yeah I'll take my time evolving
Dreaming of phone calls
You knew all along
The way we joked till we laughed our tails off

See it all unfold
An emerald life before me
Yeah I think I'm ready for

Running on concrete
Electricity
I finally can breathe
I think I'm ready for

Only you and me
We made it out it seems
I made it out it seems
I think I'm ready to

Grow, to grow
To grow, to grow

Yeah I see it coming, I see it coming
Oh boy I'm running, oh boy I'm running
I see it coming, I see it coming
Oh boy I'm running
And oh boy I'm running, running

Grow, to grow
To grow, to grow
Grow, to grow

Pure reality, don't know where it'll be
Don't know where it'll lead

I think I'm ready for
Only you and me
We made it out it seems
I made it out it seems
I think I'm ready, ready
