

Nauseous

Conan Gray

You just wanna dance
Feels like our final act
You're holding my hand
My mind sees a grizzly trap

I know you, I've seen you, I've watched you around
Everyone trusts you, they love you out loud
You won't hurt a fly, but we're flying up now
And all that goes up, well, it's got to come down

Your love is a threat and I'm nauseous
Scares me to death how I want it
Not common sense, but I'm haunted
By people who've left, so you scare me to death
Yeah, you scare me

With people before
They left like a falling floor
And there as I soared
I vowed to be nevermore

Too trusting and loving, depending and kind
Behind every kiss is a jaw that could bite
And maybe that's why I feel safe with bad guys
Because when they hurt me, I won't be surprised

Your love is a threat and I'm nauseous
Scares me to death how I want it
Not common sense, but I'm haunted
By people who've left, so you scare me to death
Yeah, you scare me

Maybe I'm here waiting for someone
To get through my years of trying to trust them
I know that it's in me to really love someone
But that's not a thing that I learned from my loved ones
Oh

Your love is a threat and I'm nauseous
Scares me to death how I want it
It's not common sense, but I'm haunted
By people who've left, so you scare me to death
Yeah, you scare me

Yeah, you scare me
