

Sunset Tower

Conan Gray

Heard you're in the city, I felt like total shit
Walking past the Tower Hotel
I used to pick you up after shooting all day
We'd drive around talking 'bout how we hate this place
Luka says you're dating again, it's horrible
Getting all your news through a friend
Been tryna hide that I'm still here stuck in your hell
So really, man, if you're out here doing well

Don't tell me
Don't tell me
I can't hear it
Don't tell me

Spare me all the stories of how you're moving on Lying to myself when I say that's what I want
Part of me just wanted some proof
It's hurting you in the way it's hurting me too

And I know what you said as I was leaving your place
You've got a messed-up head and you need some space
I said, "Yeah. That's clear. Go get some help"
But if you're working on yourself

Don't tell me
Don't tell me
I can't hear it
Don't tell me

I wish you the best but hope that you die
Inside every time I'm playing in London
If there is someone new that you're out here fucking

Don't tell me (It's easier to never know)
Don't tell me (Than face it that you're letting go)
I can't hear it (Sometimes there's just so much to say)
Don't tell me (That it don't matter anyway)
Don't tell me (It's easier to never know)
Don't tell me ('Cause I've still got a little hope)
I can't hear it (That you might want me back one day)
Don't tell me (And I can be the one to walk away)

Walk away
Walk away
Walk away
Walk away
Don't tell me
No, don't tell me
