The Connells

I hear you're waving me off I hear you're moving on past I hear you're sending me on At last I hear your time has come I hope your time will last And on and on and on and on At last. At last. Though I confront you I want you better Start This time I won't let it be... Start One thin time won't let it... Start How much longer will it... Start There it is again. I hear your time has come I hope you timed it last And on and on and on and on At last. At last
