

Somewhere In A Small Town

Conner Smith

Somewhere

A little ways off the interstate
There's four tires racing down a two lane
While he's messing with his phone
Trying to figure out what song to play
Yeah, somewhere, in a red brick one-story house
She's tried on everything by now
Keep's looking out her window
Hoping he ain't pulled up yet

'Cause somewhere, in a small town, there's a boy and a girl
Just falling in love with a sunset
That's going down while they're sitting on the back
Of his daddy's old truck
She's laughing, he's nervous
'Cause she looks so perfect
Just like you right now, somewhere in a small town
Somewhere in a small town

Yeah, somewhere

On a hill top, he's trying hard to listen
But he can't stop thinking 'bout when he's gonna mean it
Right moment, don't wanna rush it or take too long
Yeah, somewhere
You can see every star in the sky
There's two on a tailgate
Ain't looked at 'em one time
Just a county full of fence lines and dirt
But they found a little heaven on earth

'Cause somewhere, in a small town, there's a boy and a girl
Just falling in love with a sunset
That's going down yeah, they keep getting closer
Of his daddy's old truck
She's laughing, he's nervous
'Cause she looks so perfect
Just like you right now
Somewhere in a small town
Somewhere in a small town

She just stole his jacket
He just took her hand
They just wanna stay there as long as they can

'Cause somewhere, in a small town, there's a boy and a girl
Just falling in love with a sunset
That's going down yeah, they keep getting closer
They can't get enough
She's laughing, he's nervous
'Cause she looks so perfect
Just like you right now
Somewhere in a small town
Somewhere in a small town

Yeah, they're watching that moon fade
And they're tracing that sky
She keeps getting closer

He don't wanna say goodnight
Somewhere, somewhere
