

Another Song

Conor Maynard

I hear you call
Each time the curtains fall for us again
There's no applause
They've seen us one too many times

They know just how the story go
We build it up to lose it all
We're waiting in the wings so vulnerable

I know we thought we'd last forever
We would be make it through whatever
Now we only dance together
In fear of being alone
But the show it must go on
So tell me what would be so wrong
If we sang another song
(If we sang another song)

We know the lines
But we can't seem to say them right no more
It's no surprise
We can't get them back on our side

They know just how the story go
We build it up to lose it all
We're waiting in the wings so vulnerable

I know we thought we'd last forever
We would be make it through whatever
Now we only dance together
In fear of being alone
But the show it must go on
So tell me what would be so wrong
If we sang another song

(Hmm, hmm)

My love
My love, it's suicide
If we go before the lights
My love
My love, I wonder why
We can't leave each others side
My love
My love, it's suicide
If we go before the lights, woah
My love
My love, I wonder why
We can't leave each others side
(Oh woah)

I know we thought we'd last forever
We would be make it through whatever
In fear of being alone

If we sang another song
