Conquer Divide

Hell yeah brother

I bet you thought you had the advantage
Cried wolf, put yourself on the blacklist
You're not a martyr, you're an afterthought
So get off your fucking cross

What won't kill us
Better run like hell
We won't exist
In your fairytale

Is this what you wanted to see?
To conquer and divide us deceitfully
Go ahead, keep testing our patience
Buried the hatchet, but we still know where it is
But we still know where it is

Where are you now?
Just a face in the crowd
Where are you now
Tried to kick us when we're down
Where are you now?
Tried to sell us out
We won't take this lying down
We're getting up, getting up this time around

What won't kill us
Better run like hell
We won't exist
In your fairytale

And I don't want to be exonerated
In a book of fiction that you created
Your story's got a lot of plot holes in it
You'd rather drag us than admit it

So just stop
Bite your tongue
Hard enough to taste the blood

Where are you now
Just a face in the crowd
Where are you now
Tried to kick us when we're down
Where are you now
Tried to sell us out
We won't take this lying down
We're getting up, getting up this time around

Choose your next words
Oh so carefully, please
You're under oath
And we know you're so fucking guilty

Now get on your knees
Say a prayer and weep

Don't you know that secrets never sleep?
Don't you know that secrets never sleep?

What won't kill us
Better run like hell

I'll bite my tongue, while you run your mouth
Look the other way, watch the seasons change
As you count your dollars, I'll count down the days
It takes for you to dig your own grave
