

Bad Dreams

Conquer Divide

Somedays these thoughts don't feel like mine
Like I'm just watching it play out
I try to stay between the lines
But I must be losing my way now

All these vicious feelings
Like ghosts haunting and watching me fading
Can you blame 'em?
When my heart's like a shell
And this head feels like hell
Is it a waste of time to live my life?

Wish that I could be your hero
But I can hardly save myself, save myself
Hey

Trapped in bad dreams played on repeat
I need a cure for my head
Wars raging on inside of me
And I don't know how it ends

Wish that I could be your hero
I can hardly save myself, save myself
Wish that I could be your hero
I can't save myself

Sometimes I feel like I'm inside
A storm aimlessly turning
It doesn't matter how hard I try
When everything gets blurry

All I hear are noises on and on
Driving me crazy and it's draining
I see the clock ticking away
And I'm losing all my faith
Am I numb to what I've become?

Trapped in bad dreams played on repeat
I need a cure for my head
Wars raging on inside of me
And I don't know how it ends

Wish that I could be your hero
I can hardly save myself, save myself
Wish that I could be your hero
I can't save myself

In the eye of the storm
My back against the wall
These thoughts in my head keep circling, circling

In the eye of the storm
My back against the wall
These thoughts in my head
Keep me down, keep me down

This cycle makes me feel like I'm to blame

I am everywhere and nowhere, all the same
Trapped in bad dreams played on repeat
Wars raging on inside of me

I wish I could be your hero
I can hardly save myself, save myself
Wish that I could be your hero
I can't save myself

Oh, I can't save myself
Oh (Save myself)
I can't save myself
