Conquer Divide

They sold your soul away without permission
They let you think that you've got control
They come and take what they wanted from ya
Now smile and get on with the show

Sacrifice the poor to the rich man's war and burn the evidence up
Their turn to pay the piper, but they're going to pay the judge
Your silence is betrayal
Your silence is betrayal

No, we don't feel a thing and you're not listening
How can you buy the lies they tell?
When they break you down and use your parts to sell
No, we don't feel a thing, a loss of humanity
How can you buy the lies they tell?
We can't get out, it was all designed to fail

The truth becomes another headline revision
They want you all to see and believe
Blood on their hands is in the framework
They don't want a cure for the disease

They read your rights and throw the key, reciting thoughts and prayers
The system was designed to fail 'cause in their game, you're just another pl

They say don't fear the reaper
Till you poison your own well
They lost all their connection
Maybe they'll find it in hell

If you look hard enough down a loaded gun
They say don't fear the reaper
Maybe you'll finally see when your time is up
If you look hard enough down a loaded gun
Till you poison your own well
Maybe you'll finally see when your time is up
If you look hard enough down a loaded gun
