

Blooming Day

Conquest

We were forced to choose this way
To be apart for all this days
Hoping for wonder in this night
But it not easy, coldly

I can feel your lonely pain
Still it's making me insane and weak
Will we meet one day?
Will it ever end?
No one can tell me who's to blame?

I will go on in spite of pain
Still walking in the rain
I'll go through all the sacrifice
Living, waiting for our blooming day

Now I live with the only dream
To turn all events in new stream of being
There's must be a way out
And some gleam
We keep striving for other fate

I will go on in spite of pain
Still walking in the rain
I'll go through all the sacrifice
Living, waiting for our dream

I will make everything I can
For being with you again
We'll live behind all sacrifice
Coming out of shade to our blooming day