Unbound

Conrad Sewell

I am not bound by gravity
I rise above the earth and sea
And never have to leave, never have to leave the ground

They say it's an oddity
To live among the enemy
But that's where I feel, I feel safe and sound

With you, my love, I am unbound
With you, my love, I am unbound

Oh, Lord on high
Where will you be the day I die
Stay here with me til the day I die

My mistress was the moon that night
Lips of stone and light
She kissed me and my blood ran cold

My mistress was the moon that night
Lips of stone and light
I came there young, and I left there old

With you, my love, I am unbound
With you, my love, I am unbound

Oh, Lord on high
Where will you be the day I die
Stay here with me til the day I die

There is a tree upon the hill
Where lovers love forever still
And children dance around and round

There is a tree upon the hill
Where we could live together still
And never come back down

With you, my love, I am unbound
With you, my love, I am unbound

Oh, Lord on high
Where will you be the day I die
Stay here with me til the day I die
Stay here with me til the day I die
Stay here with me til the day I die
