

Perfect World

Conro

Late night overthinking
Wrapped up in my feelings once again
I'm worried 'bout the future
Wondering where I'll be in the end

I know that there must be more to life than this
I know I'm not perfect but sometimes I just wish

In a perfect world never say goodbye
Your heart will never break and you won't hear lies
Anything you want with no compromise
In a perfect world
In a perfect world wouldn't be mine

Wake up in the morning
Thinking from a different point of view
Another song, the weather
That I can make it better if I choose

I know that there must be more to life than this
I know I'm not perfect but sometimes I just wish

In a perfect world never say goodbye
Your heart will never break and you won't hear lies
Anything you want with no compromise
In a perfect world
In a perfect world wouldn't be mine

In a perfect world
In a perfect world

Wake up in the morning
Thinking from a different point of view
