

Back Down To Earth

Consequence

I had no idea that you felt so abandoned
Man it threw me off and I couldn't understand it
I thought we were good but apparently you're hurt
And that look on your face brought me back down to earth

You bring me back down to earth where it's just you and I
Back down to earth where I can't tell you lies
And even when I do it's so hard to describe
'Cause no matter where I've been or all the things I'm bout
You bring me back down to earth

You would think that my head's in the clouds
Just on first glance
'Cause I be actin like I'm way too fly and let some fly first class
But if you've been on the spaceship I took
You can hear the pain in my hooks
You can hear the real in my rhymes
Finally my thoughts have a line
So I feel that the sky might fall
And it feel that I might ball
For that shit I throw on my ray bands
I make plans to lace up my space jams
Say they'll bring my land in
But if I broke your heart
Would it crush your world?
I really never gave it much thought

I had no idea that you felt so abandoned
Man it threw me off and I couldn't understand it
I thought we were good but apparently you're hurt
And that look on your face brought me back down to earth

You bring me back down to earth where it's just you and I
Back down to earth where I can't tell you lies
And even when I do it's so hard to describe
'Cause no matter where I've been or all the things I'm bout
You bring me back down to earth

Every time that we collide it takes something out of me
And be having my mind in a whole nother galaxy
All I wanna do is shine and get a superstar salary
So that you and I can see a shooting star when we stay on the balcony
But your friends seem to think
I ain't the safest bet
But why would you ever listen to a space cadet?
Or suggest that you goin to the media?
You know me better than Wikipedia
Before I ever thought of leaving ya
I put a rock on your finger like a meteor
But why take a ring like satin just to repeat the same pattern?
So I'm as sad as Bobby Blue playin with his heart in his hand bout to compos e the jam
'Cause I know who I am
And I put that first
So before I alienate you
I bring it back down to earth

I had no idea that you felt so abandoned
Man it threw me off and I couldn't understand it
I thought we were good but apparently you're hurt
And that look on your face brought me back down to earth

You bring me back down to earth where it's just you and I
Back down to earth where I can't tell you lies
And even when I do it's so hard to describe
'Cause no matter where I've been or all the things I'm bout
You bring me back down to earth
