

Thanks Ye

Consequence

When y'all were playing Fortnite
I was building Fort Knox
I never had my name associated with no court docs
The realest in the room, who they salute and give the most props
And that's how they should greet you when they see you on top
I take mine off top, the beat get autopsy
I stack my bundles, so shout out the [?]
I grew up in the tough parts, that made me a bit brave
Feelin' like Big, can I live to my last day?
Got paid, got paid, yeah, that was a quick flip
Sold dimes and nickelbacks to these nitwits
A couple more boss moves and now it's big whips
The kind that they might jack for four at the quick trip
Uh, come get this money with us

Thanks to Ye and his Wyoming trip
We number one and taking over all
Thanks to Ye and his Chicago trip
My son's the number one lotto pick
'Course you want fire, we should politic
You lookin' like a million dollars, kid
'Course you want fire, we should politic
You just let off an entire clip
(Boom, boom, boom, boom)

I been the same throughout this
I ain't gon' change regardless

Hell yeah, I been hustling hard
Now I got more bank than Will's Uncle and Aunt
And that's somethin' to flaunt
When you come from a gallon
To havin' girls keep keyin'
Like they 'bout to do duets with Yvonne
But every room was juicy when they see you with a new girl

'Till they spit they juice out 'cause of what happened to Juice Wrld
The consequences of your team becoming super hot
Now every devil you can name want shoot their shot
And that's a plot that you could hardly avoid
But compared to jail time, I guess I'm hardly annoyed
So why not enjoy the fruits of my labor?
I bet on myself and kept increasin' my wager
'Cause, see, I'm from the East coast
Where ghosts had to [?]
And I was on the trees even harder than a koala be
Now my DMs live for more of them to follow me
