

Without You

Conway the Machine

Lose it all
Gain the world
It doesn't matter
Without you
I'd sacrifice everything just to have you by my side again

The Lord said let there be light then came high
I spit the truth over piano I feel sanctified
My back to the wind my head above the clouds
They was hatin low key I thought you would be proud
The odds stacked against us but we made it even
I been an angel investor they still tryna wing it
Angel hair pasta boy you see me eatin
Bunch of spades on the table yellowtail sashimi
Lose it all - lose it all
In a world without you this shit don't matter at all
Man they was hoping I fall
Put a few million in the wall and I'm bout to add a few more
So we good forever
You know you compliment my style we look good together
You got that shit on I'm loving the way you put together
You see I'll pull up any hood you know I'm good wherever And them dudes can catch a bullet whenever cuz over you I would

Lose it all
Gain the world
It doesn't matter
Without you
I'd sacrifice everything just to have you by my side again

In the summer we known to drop a top
Paps takin pictures cuz we the couple you got to watch
She got the chowder with the lobster stock
Lemon ricotta pasta tasted hotter at the mobster spot
They wander in the museum she not a hottentot
They rebottle her essence and sell that shit at the body shop
The battery in my back, I call her coppertop
Glowin she so divine plus she know the time like a pocketwatch
We in the ocean we got yachts to dock
You with a bunch of dudes at the club with them sparklers on your bottletops
Your story bore me I forgot the plot
Plus it's full of holes like when my youngins try to convince me that crocs is hot
That shit be fishier than copperpot
Got me bout to jump the broom and start breakin glasses like mazel tov
A cult following like papa doc
Plus she got original flavor like roc-a-fella and roc-a-block
That brady watt a bop

Lose it all
Gain the world
It doesn't matter
Without you
I'd sacrifice everything just to have you by my side again

Lose it all
Gain the world

It doesn't matter
Without you
I'd sacrifice everything just to have you by my side again
