

I Come Here To Let Her Memory Wander Through My Mind

Conway Twitty

I can't hold back these teardrops no matter how I try
I can't say that I'm not hurtin' that would be a lie
I just lost the sweetest love a man could ever find
I come here to let her mem'ry wander through my mind

The more I drink the more I think I can get over her
But the more I think the more I drink I want more of her
So if she ever wants to find me I'm here most all the time
I come here to let her mem'ry wander through my mind

The more I drink the more I think I can get over her...
I come here to let her mem'ry wander through my mind
