

I'll Live In Dreams Of Loving You Again

Conway Twitty

I feel you take me in your arms and hold me
I hear you tell me all the thing you never told me
I hear you say that you could never live without me
Then I wake up and realize you're gone

I'll spend another day just trying to forget you
I'll pretend that I'm someone who's never met you
But I know a night will fall just because I need you
I'll live in dreams of loving you again

I've tried so hard to live forgive forget about you
But I can't make it through one night alone without you

As darkness closes in to hide me
I'll close my eyes and once again you lay beside me
Until another morning comes to take you from me
I'll live in dreams of loving you again
I'll live in dreams of loving you again
