

I'm Gettin' Tired Of Losing You

Conway Twitty

Well, here you are again just like
So many times before down on your knees
You make a promise just like you've made
And never kept before to me.

You're tellin' me you're sorry for the things you say you didn't mean to do But old friend you'd better make it because I'm gettin' tired of losing you.

I've lost you to the booze and bars and uptown girls a dozen times before For years I've tried to fake it but I ain't a gonna take it anymore.

Though I hoped that you'll rehearse your line You're gonna say and pray it will come true
'Cause there won't be no next time buddy I'm gettin' tired of losing you.

But darling please please don't leave me
I know I did you wrong before just like you said I would.
Oh darling please please believe me
If you'll take me back just one more time
I promise I'll be good.

Well, here you are again just like
So many times before down on your knees
You make a promise just like you've made
And never kept before to me...
