

I'm The Only Thing (I'll Hold Against You)

Conway Twitty

Yesterday, you walked away and left me
Today, you say you're sorry that we're through
Our love will work, we'll heal the hurt so help me
Laying blame's the last thing I would do.

I'm the only thing I'll hold against you
Let my loving arms show you the truth
There'll be no I told you sos
No matter how much heartache we go through
I love you, and I'm the only thing I'll hold against you.

I know it'd be just like the first time that I held you
When we swore that our love would always last
Lets give it one more try, don't be afraid to
One touch and we'll forget about the past.

I'm the only thing I'll hold against you
Let my loving arms show you the truth
There'll be no I told you sos
No matter how much heartache we go through
I love you, and I'm the only thing I'll hold against you.

Sometimes things go wrong
Between a woman and a man
I know we'll make it work,
All we need is a second chance

I'm the only thing I'll hold against you
Let my loving arms show you the truth
There'll be no I told you sos
No matter how much heartache we go through
I love you, and I'm the only thing I'll hold against you.

I'm the only thing I'll hold against you...
