

My Heart Won't Listen To My Mind

Conway Twitty

I woke up this morning
To a world that's all wrong
And suddenly remembered
You're gone.

I tried hard to forget you
But there's no way I find
My heart won't listen
To my mind.

I cried a river of teardrops
Got a heart full of ache
I never learned to give all
I knew would fake.

So I took the love you gave me
Then left you behind
My heart won't listen
To my mind.

So I'll hold to your mem'ry
That's all I can do
And relieve each moment
Spent with you,

And in my darkest hour
There's no measure of time
My heart won't listen
To my mind.

I cried a river of teardrops
Got a heart full of ache
I never learned to give all
I knew would fake.

So I took the love you gave me
Then left you behind
My heart won't listen
To my mind...
