

Only the Shadows Know

Conway Twitty

Two bodies silhouetting on the wall
Two candles light the place where shadows fall
Hiding in darkness like two theives in the night
Stealing together 'til the morning light

Then as the morning unfolds
Two mystery lovers touch and go
Knowing full well their secret goes untold
Only the shadows know
Only the shadows know

They know that shadows wouldn't tell a soul
They pull the shades and then they lose control
Heartbeat for heartbeat love goes on and on Undercover 'til the night is gone

Then as the morning unfolds
Two mystery lovers touch and go
Knowing full well their secret goes untold
Only the shadows know

Then as the morning unfolds
Two mystery lovers touch and go
Knowing full well their secret goes untold
Only the shadows know
Only the shadows know
