

Other Woman In My Life

Conway Twitty

Don't accuse me of being without feelings
If you do you know that you're wrong
For it was you who was careless and you drove me into another's arms.

The other woman isn't prettier than you
But the other woman soothes my wounded pride
And more important I feel wanted again
I can't give up the other woman in my life.

I'm afloat in the middle of a river and I can't climb out on either side
If I go over the deep end it's because, sweetheart, you haven't tried.

The other woman isn't prettier than you
But the other woman soothes my wounded pride
And more important I feel wanted again
I can't give up the other woman in my life...