

Climate Change

Cooper Alan

Used to be burnin' up in this house
Up in this house
Up in this house
Used to be burnin' up in this house

I've heard the ice is melting in the north pole
I've heard the water's rising in the south
And there's an endless debate whether it's true or fake
At some bar, somewhere, right now

I don't have to be a scientist to know that it does exist
Cause it does, and it sucks, and it's us

Used to be burnin' up in this house
Used to be a fire but look at us now
We were hot, now it's cold
Girl we used to fog up the windows
Sitting here watching the temperature drop
And I'd do anything to make it stop
It's strange, can't explain
This climate change, climate change

Used to be burnin' up in this house
Up in this house
Up in this house
Used to be burnin' up in this house

There's been a lot more storms than ever
There's been a lot more rain and wind
And you can feel it here, in the atmosphere
In my blood, in my veins, and under my skin

Used to be burnin' up in this house
Used to be a fire but look at us now
We were hot, now it's cold
Girl we used to fog up the windows
Sitting here watching the temperature drop
And I'd do anything to make it stop
It's strange, can't explain
This climate change, climate change

I don't have to be a scientist to know that climate change exists
Cause it does, and it sucks, and it's us

Used to be burnin' up in this house
Used to be a fire but look at us now
We were hot, now it's cold
Girl we used to fog up the windows
Sitting here watching the temperature drop
And I'd do anything to make it stop
It's strange, can't explain
This climate change, climate change

Used to be burnin' up in this house
Up in this house
Up in this house
Used to be burnin' up in this house

Used to be burnin' up in this house
Up in this house
Up in this house
Used to be burnin' up in this house