

I Gotcha

Cooper Alan

Sometimes the days comes in waves life gets heavy on you
End of your rope nobody notices what you're going through
But I do and I see the heart underneath still beating strong
You think you're alone but you ain't alone
Cause here's something you can count on

When you can't hold on longer
When the wind gets cold and blows right through your armor
Feels like the walls are falling and crashing on ya
I gotcha

All of the heavy, why don't you let me carry that for awhile
I'm right here ain't going nowhere every step
Every second every mile ...

When you can't hold on longer
When the wind gets cold and blows right through your armor
Feels like the walls are falling and crashing on ya
I gotcha
Oh, I gotcha

I got your back through it all
When it gets off track
You just call
I'll shine the light when it's dark
I'll be your rock when it falls apart

When you can't hold on longer
When the wind gets cold and blows right through your armor
Feels like the walls are falling and crashing on ya
I gotcha
Oh, I gotcha
