

New Normal

Cooper Alan

Used to be okay
Just being a rolling stone
You could find me most days
Being fine on my own
It's funny how everything can change in a moment
Hits you in the heart and you know when you know it
And I know it

I'm getting used to this beautiful view
Every time I wake up
Seeing your sweet face, that's all it takes
To turn me inside out
Love song in my head, you and me in this bed
This is what it's all about
Loving this new normal now
This new normal now, yeah

From the sunrise till the moon's up
I'd be alright if it was just the two of us
A bottle of wine and some front porch swinging
Got nothing but time and the night bird singing
Kinda feels like I'm dreaming

I'm getting used to this beautiful view
Every time I wake up
Seeing your sweet face, that's all it takes
To turn me inside out
Love song in my head, you and me in this bed
This is what it's all about
Loving this new normal now
This new normal now, yeah

I ain't ever going back
No, I ain't ever going back

I'm getting used to this beautiful view
Every time I wake up
Seeing your sweet face, that's all it takes
To turn me inside out
Love song in my head, you and me in this bed
This is what it's all about
Loving this new normal now
This new normal now, yeah
