

Sunbeam

Corb Lund

You are a sunbeam and you will shine forever
Forever in our hearts now that you're gone
You are a sunbeam and you will shine wherever
Wherever your soul decides to roam

I wish you could have stayed a little longer
And shone more of your sunlight in our lives
But having known you I can feel a little stronger
Remembering the sunshine in your eyes

Sunbeam you are gone but not forgotten
You I'll carry with me everyday
I'll think about the smile you smiled so often
Until I see you once again someday

You are a sunbeam and you will shine forever
Forever in my heart now that you're gone
You are a sunbeam and you will shine wherever
Wherever your soul decides to roam

I wish you could have stayed a little longer
And shone more of your sunlight in our lives
But having known you I can feel a little stronger
Remembering the sunshine in your eyes

Sunbeam you are gone but not forgotten
You I'll carry with me everyday
I'll think about the smile you smiled so often
Until I see you once again someday
