

Don't Tell Her I Told You

Corey Kent

I'm back on the pack again
Out with my no good friends
Three sheets to the wind
Flippin' heartbreak in the middle
We both know she ain't the kind
To go and change her mind
So I'm down here losing mine
Little by little

I ain't asking you to lie
So when she talks to you tonight
Don't tell her I told you

I'm down here on my knees
Hell, I can barely breathe
No, I can't get no sleep if I can't hold her
Hey God, if we could keep
This between you and me
No she don't even know that I know you
It's putting me through hell
And I can't love no one else
Don't tell her I told you

This wasn't supposed to hurt
And that whiskey's supposed to work
She's supposed to break down first
But damn if she didn't
I thought I was Superman strong
But my kryptonite was her gone
She's out here moving on
And guess who isn't

I'm down here on my knees
Hell, I can barely breathe
No, I can't get no sleep if I can't hold her
Hey God, if we could keep
This between you and me
No she don't even know that I know you
It's putting me through hell
And I can't love no one else
Don't tell her I told you
Don't tell her I told you

I ain't asking you to lie
But when she talks to you tonight
Don't tell her I told you

I'm down here on my knees
Hell, I can hardly breathe
No, I can't get no sleep if I can't hold her
Hey God, if we could keep
This between you and me
Hell, she don't even know that I know you
It's putting me through hell
And I can't love no one else
Don't tell her I told you