

Rust

Corey Kent

Tougher than a Ford
More solid than a Chevy
Hearts born to run
Rolling lead foot heavy
Every twist every turn
I'll hold you rock steady
Til these wheels run right outta road

This ain't a two-tone pile of some Detroit steel
Or a worn-out plow in a farmer's field
Yeah, some things do but we never will

This love won't rust
It holds right up
Ain't going nowhere
When the going gets tough
The shine might fade
The rain's gon' come
We'll weather that storm
Whenever it does
This love don't rust
Rust, rust

Got some grit, got some dirt
Got some rough around the edges
Up ahead heaven knows that devil's gonna test us
Right hand on a King James book of red letters
I'm betting on forever with you

This love won't rust
It holds right up
Ain't going nowhere
When the going gets tough
The shine might fade
The rain's gon' come
We'll weather that storm
Whenever it does
This love don't rust
Rust, rust

This love don't rust
Rust, rust

This ain't a two-tone pile of some Detroit steel
Or a worn out plow in a farmer's field
Yeah, some things do but we never will

This love won't rust
It holds right up
Ain't going nowhere
When the going gets tough
The shine's gon' fade
The rain's gon' come
We'll weather that storm
Whenever it does
This love don't rust
Rust, rust

This love don't rust
Rust, rust
