

Ain't Going Out Tonight

Corey Smith

I ain't going out tonight
Leaving you just don't feel right
I wanna snuggle up real tight
And lay around together, yeah

There's always trouble when
I'm running round with my old friends
I'm gonna play it safe
And pretend I'm under the weather, yeah

I'm making changes
Lettin' go of my grudge against the wind
I'm turning pages
Getting ready for what's up around the bend
I ain't going out tonight, no, no

I sold my old pickup truck
The one I'm always getting stuck
I won't be driving it too much
And I could use the money

This place needs fixing up
So I'm trying to do a little saving up
I'm gonna do my best
To make it pretty for you, honey

I'm making changes
Lettin' go of my grudge against the wind
I'm turning pages
Getting ready for what's up around the bend

Here's to happy endings
Here's to new beginnings
Growing up and feeling younger
Here's to me and you
And all that we have left to do, baby
Let's lay here a while and wonder
How our story's going to go

We're going through changes
No we can't ever be kids again
We're turning pages
This chapter's coming to an end, to an end
But our story's just beginning, yeah, yeah

I ain't going out tonight, no
Leaving you just don't feel right
I wanna snuggle up real tight
Baby I ain't going out tonight
Honey I ain't going out tonight
Baby I ain't going out tonight
