

Sweet Dependency

Corneille

Girl, I know I've told you I'm the kind of man who Needs his space
But girl, that all changed the very day I felt you
Change my ways

Just as long as you're there
See, I don't really care
What they will think it says about me

The world has turned cynical
But should we care at all?
I'm not afraid you should know this about me

Girl I'm dependent
Girl I'm dependent
I'm so dependent of you
And I'm depending on you
To come and share this sweet dependency

Girl, I know I've told you I'm the kind of man who
Needs his freedom
But girl, I have found I'm only myself with you
Now isn't that true freedom?

For there's no freedom alone
Life's been lonely on my own
Solitude is the worst prison I know

Should I assume by your smile
Some reciprocity
So I am not afraid to confess this about me

Girl I'm dependent
Girl I'm dependent
I'm so dependent of you
And I'm depending on you

Girl there's so much temptation
And so this addiction
Is the only way I know to forever

And so the hell with reason
Girl this addiction
Is the only way there is to forever

Girl I'm dependent
Girl I'm dependent
I'm so dependent of you
And I'm depending on you
To come and share this sweet dependency

Girl I'm dependent
Girl I'm dependent
I'm so dependent of you
And I'm depending on you
To come and share this sweet dependency

Girl I'm so dependent
So dependent
Girl I'm so dependent
Girl I'm so dependent
Girl I'm dependent
Dependent on you
