

No Planet B

Coronatus

Will you still trust in the health of our planet Earth?
In its power to heal all those damages?
Will you still guess all signs are innocuous?
That your living will not suffer any dearth?
Will you trust the promises
That there is no reason for despair?

There is no planet B
You ever could escape to
Once the change will start out to escalate
You can change the future now
It is the time to act fast
To understand this is our only chance
You can save the future now!

Will you still trust in the speech of the government?
In its far sight to stop all those climate sins?
Will you wonder why this caused the scholars' din
Decades after rainfall just had been absent?
Will you remember the scientists
Who proved you the change years ago?

There is no planet B
You ever could escape to
Once the change will start out to escalate
You can change the future now
It is the time to act fast
To understand this is our only chance
You can save the future now!

You might have saved our world
If you just start to care

There is no second Earth
You ever could escape to
Once the change will start out to escalate
You can change the future now
It is the time to act fast
To understand this is our only chance
You can save the future now!
There is no house of refuge
Once the collapse will start to escalate
You can change the future now
It is the time to act fast
To understand this is our only chance
You can save the future now

No planet B, no more Earth, only one chance now
No second world, no more globe, only one sphere
Oh
No planet B, no more Earth, only one chance now
No second world, no more globe, only this...
