

In The Alone

Corporate Avenger

They say that silence is golden
This comes as no surprise
When we retreat to the strength in the back of our mind Inquire, decide, remind of a time in line with the world outside

Don't shoot, I can see the light in your eyes
Don't you, I can see the light in thier eyes

They say that silence is golden
This comes as no surprise
When we retreat to the strength in the back of our mind
Inquire, decide, remind of a time in line with the
world outside

You'll find me in the alone
I'd fly from the sun to the moon
Just to feel you, just to heal you, it'll be all right
The journey's long to the place of healing, let go into the light

Don't shoot, I can see the light in your eyes
Don't you, I can see the light in your eyes

They say that laughter is holding the key to longer life
When our defeat, so complete, that we don't try We smile, relax, feel good and be kind, then give to the world outside

You'll find me in the alone
I'd fly from the sun to the moon
Just to feel you, just to heal you, it'll be all right
The journey's long to the place of healing, let go into
the light

You'll find me all alone
I'd fly from the sun to the moon

My brother, these days won't be this heavy for long
My sister, don't you choose to carry burdens alone Decent lives in tiny quarters, narrow shoulders, bearing thier loads
These days it feels the same, but the same can never return

You see we try to find our place in life
It seems like every day we sacrifice
So many hours gone to pay for life
Don't let your point of life, become that sacrifice
