

Feels like a milestone

Being in my 30s

Friends become mothers and fathers

With little ones of their own

So and so's a doctor

A lawyer and accountant

So and so's got married

They've got a lifetime ahead

A beautiful lifetime ahead

33, the age that You died for me

Now here I am at 33

33, You crowned it with Your life upon a tree

The mystery of Your love for me

We could have been schoolmates

Studying together

We could have had tea and scones

And talked about our day

You walk this path before me

Living close to guide me

You're thirsty for someone

To show a little care

You've hidden in faces everywhere

33, the age that You died for me

Now here I am at 33

33, You crowned it with Your life upon a tree

The mystery of Your love for me

Everyone start a song to sing

It doesn't matter how sure it'd long

Just let each note ring

So long as we're in this key

33, the age that You died for me

Now here I am at 33

33, You crowned it with Your life to set me free

The mystery of Your love

The mystery of Your love for me
