

A Note to Me

Corroded

This bitter pill I got it turns out to be hard to swallow
Might make my head whole
But everything inside feels hollow
I am the haunting of the day that never came
What a shame

The truth hurts that I know and now it's out for everyone to see
I'm just a coward who hates everything about me
Everything I've done was a lie
It's hard not to cry

I stand before you in my nakedness
And I admit that I was wrong
My only hope is that you will forgive

And that someday
Someday you will forget

This bitter pill I got it turns out to be hard to swallow
Might make my head whole
But everything inside feels hollow
I am the haunting of the day that never came
What a shame

I stand before you in my nakedness
And I admit that I was wrong
My only hope is that you will forgive
And that someday
Someday you will forget
