

Breathing

Corroded

All the screams are quiet now
A whisper from the past
That will no longer exist
All the dreams are dead and gone
They drifted away like a ship at sea

Everything that we once were
A distant memory now buried in the cold
All the words that was left unsaid
They mean nothing now, nothing at all

Nothing, nothing, nothing
Nothing, nothing, nothing
Nothing at all

All I can do is keep on breathing
There's nothing more that I can do
Just keep on breathing, breathing

All the ghosts are brethrended
They crawl under my skin
Judging from withing
Everything that we once had
It means nothing now, nothing at all

Nothing, nothing, nothing
Nothing, nothing, nothing
Nothing at all

All I can do is keep on breathing
There's nothing more that I can do
Just keep on breathing, breathing

All I can do is keep on breathing
There's nothing more that I can do
Just keep on breathing, breathing

All I can do is keep on breathing, breathing
Just keep on breathing
Breathing

All I can do is keep on breathing
There's nothing more that I can do
Just keep on breathing, breathing

All I can do is keep on breathing
There's nothing more that I can do
Just keep on breathing, breathing
