

Leave Me Alone

Corroded

When a life breaks it is silent
It just withers like a leaf in the fall
When a faith is sealed without you
What remains is hope that has gone

You have to leave me alone
It doesn't matter what you might do
'Cause if you scream, I don't have to listen
I'll put it in black and white
What you do won't scar me no more
I just need to, get on with my life

Now when colors turns to grey
And the shadows brings the sweetest company
And indifference turns to solace
A pretend life in a make believe world

You have to leave me alone
It doesn't matter what you might do
'Cause if you scream, I don't have to listen
I'll put it in black and white
What you do won't scar me no more

I just need to, get on with my life

The truth will hurt more than lies
I'm pinned down but I need to move
The truth will hurt more than lies
And this is just getting us down, down, down

You have to leave me alone
It doesn't matter what you might do
'Cause if you scream, I don't have to listen
I'll put it in black and white
What you do won't scar me no more
I just need to, get on with my life

The truth will hurt more than lies
I'm pinned down but I need to move
The truth will hurt more than lies
And this is just getting us down, down, down
