

Time and Again

Corroded

This endless hole I seem to be stuck within
The absence of life is so full of sin
And I have lost just about everything
No more life, let the loneliness begin

The shame for all the errors on my ways
Will relentlessly haunt me till the end of days
Out of options cause I have failed (I have failed)
End of game brings the solitude again

Time and time and time again
Withered, broken, infident
I need to find some peace of mind
Time and time and time again
Life will fight me till the end
I need to find some peace of mind

My life is no more then a loosing game
I see myself and I see shame
The sence of guilt just lingers on (lingers on)
No more time emptiness is left alone

Time and time and time again
Withered, broken, infident
I need to find some peace of mind
Time and time and time again
Life will fight me till the end
I need to find some peace of mind

Time and time and time again
Withered, broken, infident
I need to find some peace of mind
Time and time and time again
Life will fight me till the end
I need to find some peace of mind.
