

Forgive Me

Corrosion of Conformity

There's a me in there somewhere
Between the passion and the pain
Between the stars and the heavens
Within three long wasted days
There's a me in there somewhere
He's all black-eyed and blue
From the man I keep fighting
But he was fighting for you

Oh, forgive me
Please, forgive me

There's a me in there somewhere
But he ain't towing the line
I used to let 'em down easy
And now it happens every time
And now the me has gotten lost there
Trying to find my way home
Before the sun sets behind me
In the darkness I roam

Oh, forgive me
Please, forgive me

But there's one thing for certain
Sometimes lives drift apart
But the me on the inside
Remembers the purest of hearts

There's something telling the victim
But the victim is you

Forgive me
Behold the outside

Life is long, don't forget that
God knows I've tried
And you deserve so much better
Than the me on the inside
You were the light and you proved to be right
You kept me steadfast and true
Now the me on the inside
Forever believes in you

Oh, forgive me
Please, forgive me
Forgive me
Please, forgive me