

Simply Not Enough

Cory Lee

Breath, Breath

You got me waitin
Every second motion feels like a year
Communications fadin
When I speak you don't even hear

Your always satisfied
Don't care for truth, don't care for a lie
So who am I
To care for you

My love is everything you need
But it's simply not enough
I make love
You take love

For years I gave you everything
But it's simply not enough
I make love
You take love

How could this happen
When the love you had for me was so pure
Antisapating when the house,
The car, the kids were fo'shore

Now it is changing
I can't see threw, I can't see us two
So who am I
To stay with you

My love is everything you need
But it's simply not enough
I make love
You take love

For years I gave you everything
But it's simply not enough
I make love
You take love

Breath, Breath

I should have said
My one regret
To hold on
For so long

Now this time
I must decide
I can't stay, I can't go
It's over

My heart is breakin
With every move I'm makin
I'm sure hesitading

That I cannot find the strenght anymore

I won't live a lie
You don't love me, you don't even say
So who am I
To wait for you

My love is everything you need
I make love
You take love

For years I gave you everything
I make love
You take love

I should have said
My one regret
To hold on
For so long

Now this time
It's over

My love is everything you need
I make love
You take love

For years I gave you everything
I make love (I make it, you take it)
You take love
