

Better Off

Cory Marks

Can't close my eyes it's been two weeks
My stomach rumbles I just won't eat
Got you on my mind, you're still in my bed
We're kissing goodnight and you never left
You call me I fall, you don't love me at all
Hell babe you never did

You don't seem to answer me when I call
But you want me to catch you every time you fall
'Cause you know I'll always be around
You're kissing me, I'm reading between the lines
You can't hide the lying in your eyes
You swear it's the last time could we just talk
I think I'm better off

Driving around trying to clear my head
Turn the radio up, it's our song again
Just want to be alone but you're blowing up my phone
Don't wanna turn around, I know you'll let me down
You call me I fall, you don't love me at all
Yeah babe, here we go again

You don't seem to answer me when I call
But you want me to catch you every time you fall
'Cause you know I'll always be around
You're kissing me, I'm reading between the lines
You can't hide the lying in your eyes
You swear it's the last time could we just talk
I think I'm better off

I'm a rock, you're a rolling stone
I'm better off
Here living on my own
I'm better off never seeing you again
I'm better off, better off
I'm better off

You don't seem to answer me when I call
But you want me to catch you every time you fall
'Cause you know I'll always be around
You're kissing me, I'm reading between the lines
You can't hide the lying in your eyes
You swear it's the last time could we just talk
I think I'm better off
I think I'm better off
I think I'm better off, yeah
I think I'm better off, yeah
I think I'm better off
