

Choices

Cory Morrow

Choices are made
Between truth and lies
There's no question of the choice you've made
I see it in your eyes
Take your time
Just be still
Listen to the wind blow through the trees
Feel the rain on the window sill
It feels right
I can't be wrong
Why did I ever let it go?
Why did I let it go so long?
I am wild and I am free
Lord it seems you always wanted that for me
I'm filled with love
To the point I'm springin' leaks
I'm makin' choices
Findin' a little at a time
The choice was always mine
Time and again
Our paths collide
And I'm still seein' all the sadness
That you haven't left behind
It still haunts you
That's clear as hell

With all your demons floatin' 'round
You've made a coward of yourself
Yeah but that's not me
So I must be gone
I have no time for feelin' sorry for you
I'll write it in a song
I am wild and I am free
Lord it seems you always wanted that for me
I'm filled with love
To the point I'm springin' leaks
I'm makin' choices
Findin' a little at a time
The choice was always mine
Yeah I am wild and I am free
Lord it seems you always wanted that for me
I'm filled with love
To the point I'm springin' leaks
I'm makin' choices
Finding a little at a time
The choice was always mine
