

Gravity

Cory Wells

I need something to tear apart the seams
I'm stuck in bed at war with gravity
I hear the sound of your voice but I can't speak
Like a song without a melody to sing
You don't deserve to live this way
And I don't think that I'm worth saving

I just don't know what you want from me

Run away like you know you should
Forget about this perfect family
Never did what you thought I could
Let me fade into your memory

So run away
Just run away
Run away

You're looking at a man without a name
A ripped up photo stuck inside a silver frame
I'm living in routine defeat
And sinking back into the sheets

And I just don't know what you want from me

Run away like you know you should
Forget about this perfect family
Never did what you thought I could
Let me fade into your memory

So run away
Just run away
Run away

Yeah you know I want to care
Yeah I know it's so unfair

Run away like you know you should
Forget about this perfect family
Never did what you thought I could
Let me fade into your memory

So run away
Just run away
Run away

Run away like you know you should
Forget about this perfect family
Never did what you thought I could
